To whom it may concern:

I, Herbert René Cordero Henríquez, a licensed professional and professor at Gerardo Barrios University, hereby recommend Cindy Rachell Ramírez García, my student in the Systems and Computer Networks Engineering program, whom I have known for four years.

As a student, she has shown respect for professors and classmates, complete dedication to her studies and projects, and demonstrated strong teamwork skills, availability for the activities of the Faculty of Science and Technology, and a great sense of responsibility.

She is an excellent person with great charisma and social skills; her strategic thinking makes her highly capable of performing any task. Her aptitude and attitude demonstrate a strong desire for self-improvement. Therefore, I am certain that she will become one of the best in whatever she chooses to do or undertake.

For whatever purposes the interested party deems appropriate, this document is extended to the eighth day of December, two thousand twenty-five.
